CCCG provides fresh vegetables and fruit, free-of-charge to UNC-Chapel Hill’s lower wageworkers through the efforts of students, staff, faculty and local residents. The garden also serves as a learning lab for developing gardening skills, healthy living and academic pursuits.

Our Partners

North Carolina Botanical Garden
UNC Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention
UNC Employee Forum

How can you help?

Make A Donation

ONLINE:
http://giving.unc.edu/gift/bot
Choose "Carolina Campus Community Garden (5277)" in the Botanical Garden’s giving menu.

BY CHECK:
Send check to "North Carolina Botanical Garden." On the memo line of the check, please indicate that the gift is for the Carolina Campus Community Garden.
Mail to:
North Carolina Botanical Garden CB# 3375
UNC-Chapel Hill
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3375

STOCKS:
Contact Charlotte A. Jones-Roe at the North Carolina Botanical Garden at (919) 962-9458 or UNC Development at (919) 962-8189 and specify that you want the gift to go to the Botanical Garden’s CCCG.

IN-KIND GIFTS:
Contact Claire Lorch at clorch@email.unc.edu if you have tools, seeds or other items that may be helpful.

Volunteer

GARDEN WORK DAYS:
The garden has regular workdays throughout the year. Visit http://sites.google.com/site/uncgarden/home for latest information on workdays and times.
The impetus for creating the CCCG came from a growing concern for the lower wage employees in the University community struggling to feed their families. Inspired by the World War II Victory Garden concept, a dedicated group of students, staff, faculty, and community members developed this community garden to provide fresh fruits and vegetables for employees in need. The garden welcomes both novice and expert gardeners.

Because I don't have a place for a garden...I think it is wonderful that someone supplies us, that we can come and get these vegetables.

-Louise Spinks, UNC-Chapel Hill Housekeeper

Lettuce, Collards, Kale, Bok Choy

- 8,000 Sq. feet transformed into a productive garden
- More than 175 volunteers, representing students, staff, faculty and community members.
- 20-30 UNC housekeepers receive produce at weekly distributions
- Over 2,500 pounds of fresh vegetables and fruits distributed...saving families in need over $11,000.

Peppers, Zucchini, Chinese Cabbage

The people who volunteer for the garden, work at the garden, and show the housekeeping staff that they matter and they want to do stuff for them...we can’t thank them enough.

-Timothy Carville, UNC-Chapel Hill Housekeeping Zone Manager